FLYERS HAVE THRILLING MID-AIR ADVENTURE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Army aviators have long since ceased to get many thrills out of routine or even "stunt" flying. It is said, but an exception should be made in the case of two sergeants who recently set out to break the world's altitude record for a parachute jump at McCook field, Dayton, O., according to an air service announcement. The men were Sergeants Strong B. Madan and Ralph Bottrell.

The sergeants, without intimating the nature of their objective, took the air in a Le Pere two-seated plane with Madan as the pilot and Bottrell wearing a standard army parachute of the double-pack type. After flying for an hour the plane had reached an altitude of 20,600 feet and Sergeant Bottrell started to climb out of the cockpit to make the jump.

The release ring of his parachute, however, accidentally caught on the fuselage of the plane, and the parachute opened prematurely, dragging the sergeant out over the tail of the machine. Bottrell's arm struck the rudder of the plane as he went by, tearing some ligaments of his arm and ripping off a sleeve of his fur-lined flying coat. A strap of his harness at the same time caught the rudder and tore it from the plane. The parachute itself was damaged but opened as the sergeant cleared the machine and started his long descent.

Sergeant Bottrell lost considerable blood from his injured arm during the drop, but made a safe landing in a plowed field and received medical attention in time to prevent any serious result from his injury.

Meantime, Sergeant Madan, in a rudderless airplane 20,600 feet in the air, was having troubles of his own. He finally found a position where he could maintain a straight flight by keeping the throttle in a certain position and tilting the plane with the ailerons. In this manner he glided down to within about 8,000 feet of earth where he managed to make a wide turn by juggling his throttle and aileron controls, straightened out and made a perfect landing without further damage to his machine.

AT THE THEATERS

The powerful novel of William J. Locke, "The White Dove" is on the screen of the Liberty Theatre today.

H. B. Warner is the star and he is supported by a company which includes Claire Adams, Virginia Lee Corbin, William O. Barrows, Herbert Greenwood, Donald McDonald and Ruth Renick.

There are a number of interesting scenes of London life, most of them penetrating high artistic and society circles, but the earlier and latter parts of the picture are laid in a typical English village, and on the estate of an English gentleman.

Why should a famous physician suddenly sacrifice friends, fame and fortune—disappear to hide his head in shame from his fellow practitioners? What reasons are powerful enough to cause him to thus give up the benefits that came as the result of a lifetime's endeavor?

"The Doctor and the Woman," the Jewel adaptation of Mary Roberts Rinehart's powerful novel "K," tells the story of this physician's predicament. Photoplay patrons who attend the Liberty Theatre, will have the opportunity of seeing it when the management of that theatre present it on Friday.

True Boardman appears as co-star with Miss Harris, enacting the role of "K LeMoine," the physician who seeks to hide himself from his fellowmen.

Drinking a Glass of Hot Water is a Splendid Habit

Cleanse and sweeten the system each morning and wash away poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy all ways by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before eating more food.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all of the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a fine appetite for breakfast. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store, but is enough to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism an enthusiast on internal sanitation.

MAY DISPLAY GERMAN FLAG ON CONDITIONS

COBLENZ, Germany, Aug. 15. (By Mail.)—The German flag may again be displayed from public buildings and carried in parades, on special occasions, in all the Rhineland except the American area. Under the High Commission's order Germans must obtain a permit for each such display.

Major General Henry T. Allen has not approved the order for the American area because the armistice status still exists there.

TREES NAMED FOR NICHE IN HALL OF FAME

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The only tree known to have been planted in memory of Abraham Lincoln right after his assassination has been nominated for a place in the Hall of Fame for "trees with a history" which the American Forestry association is compiling. A. S. Bailey of Decorah, Iowa, where the tree now stands, informed the association that the tree was planted by one John Finn, who is still living.

When Abraham Lincoln was assassinated Mr. Finn was in Chicago and he returned home much depressed. A few days later, on April 27, 1865, Governor Stone of Iowa declared a day of mourning for Lincoln. Finn went into the woods and dug up a small hackberry shoot which he transplanted on the street in front of his home. The shoot took root and today is one of the most magnificent trees in Iowa. It is 110 feet high and nearly 12 feet in circumference to which facts the American Forestry association points as a great lesson in what can be done in tree planting.

The Daughters of the American Revolution, the Grand Army of the Republic and historical societies of the country are said to be reporting many other trees with a history to the American Forestry association. Other nominations for the Hall of Fame are:

The first algaroba tree in the Hawaiian Islands by M. J. Riordan of Flagstaff, Ariz. This tree seed was taken to Honolulu by Father Bachlot from California. There are now thousands of them in the islands.

The General Johnston oak on the Shiloh battlefield by the chamber of commerce of Corinth, Miss. Under this tree General Albert Sidney Johnston was killed while leading his troops. The tree, now 300 years old, is cared for by the national government.

The Washington oak near Santa,

S. C., nominated by J. Danforth Bush of Wilmington, Del. The tree was spared from the ax when George Washington urged that it be not cut down. The tree is on the estate of Colonel Henry Rutledge.

The largest canyon live oak in California is believed to have been found by L. A. Barrett of the United States forest service near the Biddison ranch in Bouquet canyon on the Santa Barbara forest.

The San Diego mission palm, nominated by T. P. Gets. This is the only one remaining of the four planted in 1769. Two were sent to the Chicago world's fair in 1893 and a third was blown down in 1913.

The Blunston oak, just over the Philadelphia line in Darby, nominated by Miss Ethel Austin Shrigley of Lansdown, Pa. This tree was mentioned in a deed in 1683 and from beneath it in 1777 General Washington watched his army march from Philadelphia to Chadd's ford.

The old Sassafras tree at Harrisburg, now 208 years old, nominated by J. S. Illick. It was 15 years old when John Harris, Jr., son of the man who found the Pennsylvania capital was born. The tree is 13 feet in circumference and 56 feet high.
